DUBLIN CUSTOM HOUSE FIRE LAID TO SINN FEINERS

LET PLEBISCITE RULE DIVISION URGES BRITAIN

Propose to Give Each Nation Sections Voting in its Favor; Allied Board Would Hold Territory

BRAND EXPRESSES FAITH IN GERMANY'S GOOD INTENTIONS

Premier Jeered and Hooted in Stormy Session of French Chamber

PARIS.—(By the Associated Press).—The plan for the settlement of the Upper Silesian controversy, supposedly a British suggestion, is to give Poland and Germany respectively the communes that voted in their favor at the recent plebiscite, but to hold the entire territory under control of a special commission for thirty years.

Under the plan this commission would be appointed by the league of nations and at the end of the thirty-year period the population of the region would again be given the opportunity to express their wishes.

The exchanges of views between London and Paris on the question are continuing, notwithstanding the debate in the chamber of deputies and the feeling in French official circles this morning was that the allies were coming together.

The council of ambassadors again took hold of the Silesian question Wednesday and decided to send a note to Poland setting forth Germany's promise to close the Silesian frontier and asking Poland to see that her frontier also was tightly shut.

Chamber Hoots Brand

PARIS.—Premier Brand was jeered and hooted in the chamber on Tuesday when he declared that Germany had shown good faith in meeting allied demands.

The scene in the chamber was one of the stormiest in its history.

Brand, his voice drowned in wave after wave of jeering shouts stood his ground and declared "France will go no further except under imperative necessity."

The premier declared his faith in the Weimar cabinet and his belief that the German government is sincere in its avowed purpose of fulfilling treaty obligations.

Real Warfare Near

LONDON.—Protestation by high officials that the four battalions of British troops ordered to Upper Silesia by the British government are merely replacements can not cloak the seriousness of the situation and the real significance of this movement.

While it is given out that forces may not expect to see any action, and that their purpose is merely to ensure a moral influence on Korfanty's irregulars, it goes without saying that they will be received by Germany and viewed by France as allies of the Germans against Poland.

There will be no action unless the Poles stage an attack, but such an attack may bring about something approaching real warfare.

People Terror-Stricken

Conditions in Silesia are rapidly becoming worse. Looting and terrorization are general in the villages, and Korfanty's rebels have in many places broken loose from all restraint.

France was fully informed of Great Britain's position in the interchange of notes during the week-end.

It is reported that France is proceeding with her threat to take drastic action if the Germans attempt to defend their positions in Silesia by force of arms.

Feeling between the allied forces in Silesia is said to be running high, and armed clashes may be expected unless the officers use the utmost restraint in dealing with the rebels.

The situation has become worse since the shortage of food. Supplies are running short because of the German freight embargo and, although the rebels have succeeded in reorganizing industry to some extent in territory now controlled by them, grave conditions are reported from the smaller cities and towns.

Germany, it was admitted in official circles, is willing to send in money and supplies, provided she receives a guarantee from the entente, or from Great Britain alone, that the territory shall be held inviolable.

MEETINGS CALLED FOR WEDNESDAY NIGHT POSTPONED

The meeting of the committee on administration and all other committees except the mayor's special committee called for Wednesday night has been postponed, according to an announcement from the office of the clerk Wednesday morning. No time was announced when the meeting would be called again.

$40,000 IS VOTED BY COUNTY BOARD TO REPAIR STREETS

Money Goes to City to Resurface Streets Over Which Highway Lines Run

RESOLUTION TO ABOLISH THE INSURANCE COMMITTEE LOST

Supervisors to Participate in Service Men's Lot Dedication

What the County Board Did.

Appropriated $40,000 to repair city streets, that are connecting links through the city in state highways Nos. 11, 21 and 33.

Appropriated $340 to complete the hog house at the poor farm.

Defeated a resolution asking for the abolishment of the insurance committee of the board.

Tabled the resolution recommending the purchase of tract indexes to Clinton & Blackwell's and Smith & Batchelder's additions (now vacated) from Andrew Thompson, former register of deeds.

Voted to wire State Senator Clarke to urge the enactment of the bill known as the auto truck classification measure, designated to regulate truck traffic over highways.

Voted to continue the committee named to confer with a city council committee on a new causway.

Decided to hold a county board picnic on June 15.

Voted to participate in the dedication of the service men's lot in Oak Grove cemetery, Sunday morning, June 12.

Adjourned until August 2.

THE county board of supervisors on Tuesday appropriated $40,000 to be added to the $130,000 voted by the city to repair the streets of La Crosse. The appropriation of the county will be used on the streets that are continuations or over which state highway lines Nos. 11, 21 and 33 run. The board also appropriated $340 more for the hog house at the poor farm.

The board was full of fight when the afternoon session was called to order. The opening gun was fired by the special rules committee. Supervisors Kindley, Dawson and Fletcher, which introduced a resolution asking for the abolishment of the insurance committee and the appointment of a new committee on social welfare.

John Kindley, speaking in behalf of the committee said that the insurance committee had not functioned as it should, was arbitrary in placing insurance and had not saved the county any considerable amount of money. It was also charged that an insurance agent who had done much in the way of service for the highway committee and highway commissioner did not get any business when some insurance was placed not long ago, because of ill feeling that existed between the insurance committee or a member of the committee, and the insurance man.

Defense by Pettigill

Claude Pettigill, chairman of the insurance committee, was on his feet the instant Mr. Kindley was through speaking, with a defense for his committee. Mr. Pettigill showed, among other things, that when the insurance committee got on the job it found that the boilers in the county insane asylum were not insured while all boilers in other institutions were insured; that the insane asylum was insured for $25,000 on the main building and $25,000 on the wings of the buildings and that the committee arranged the insurance so that the $50,000 on the insurance was placed on wings was main building and wings was main building.

Mr. Pettigill said, in the discussion, that the county was carrying liability insurance for drivers of county trucks, when the county is not liable for accidents in which county truck drivers figure. This insurance was discontinued, Mr. Pettigill then described at length how insurance on all county property was apportioned among all agencies in the city except the one he is interested in.

"Our agency does not carry one cent of county insurance," said Mr. Pettigill.

Barney Olson a member of the insurance committee pushed into the fray at this point. "Do you know that the man who worked his hardest to defeat me at the last election got as big a share of the insurance as anyone? I don't think that that shows discrimination or ill feeling on my part or on the part of the committee," he declared.

Supervisors Yerly, Keppel and Staats spoke in favor of the insurance committee. Mr. Pettigill, answering Orrin Fletcher's statement that the committee had not saved the county any money, declared that the committee had completed its task, that the county insurance was on a systematic basis and he guessed the board could abolish it now that its work had been done.

Resolution is Defeated

When it came to a vote there were 27 who voted to strike out reference to insurance.

GREEN VEGETABLES "CAMOUFLAGE" FOR JUG OF MOONSHINE

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The art of camouflage did not die with the armistice. Mrs. Fannie Meshnik proved by preparing a gallon jug of new moonshine in a rock basket, covered with green vegetables, for delivery to a saloonkeeper.

But a home-going policeman, sighting the vegetables, decided he wanted some rooties and onions for supper and stopped Mrs. Meshnik. She demurred, saying her vegetables were not to look at them. When he found the moonshine, he charged her with violation of the Mulberger law and Judge Page fined her $250. The policeman also found a still in her basement.

MOSCOW REPORTED NEAR STARVATION

MOSCOW.—By The Associated Press. Moscow is near starvation, it is said in reports from that city, because peasants refuse to sell their corn and are keeping it for seed. The decree issued by the bolshevik government restoring freedom of trade does not seem to have removed the menace of a food shortage.

FORM SOCIETY TO PROMOTE U. S.-JAPANESE HARMONY

TOKIO, May 4.—By The Associated Press.—The promotion of peace between Japan and the United States and between Japan and China are the fundamental objects of a new society which has been formed by Japanese women said Mrs. Yukio Ozaki, wife of ex-minister of Justice Ozaki, in an interview yesterday with the Associated Press.

SEVEN RATTLES CAPTURED REEDSBURG, WIS.

Reedsburg, Wis.—Seven rattlesnakes ranging in length from 18 inches to five feet were captured near Prairie du Sac by C. H. Dinsmore and Ed. Clement of this city. The reptiles are said to be very numerous in the country this year. The largest snake captured was killed in a snare. This measured over five feet and had seven rattles. The snakes will be sent to a museum.

SECOND OLDEST TOWN IN U. S. CELEBRATES 250TH ANNIVERSARY

FREDERICKSBURG, Va.—Fredericksburg, probably the second oldest city in America and whose history has been intimately associated with that of the nation, celebrated Wednesday the 250th anniversary of its recognition as an established town.

MAKING OF WINE AT HOME UNLAWFUL IS RULING OF MORGAN

Provisions of Matheson Bill on this Subject Similar to Mulberger Law

CAPITOL SEES CHANCE THAT BLAINE WILL VETO BILL

Governor Has Until Saturday to Approve or Reject

MADISON, Wis.—Manufacture of home-made wines in Wisconsin under the Matheson bill is unlawful the same as under the present Mulberger law, although search of homes to establish evidence of violation cannot be made by enforcement officers except with proof of sale, Attorney General William J. Morgan ruled in an opinion to Governor J. J. Blaine Wednesday.

The governor placed six questions dealing with provision of the new enforcement bill before the attorney general for answer. This move on the part of Governor Blaine is understood to indicate a decided possibility that he will veto the prohibition measure which has been before him for his signature since Monday.

What effect the decision of the attorney general will have on his position with regard to the bill, will be known within the next three days. After that time, unless vetoed, the measure automatically becomes law.

The opinion declares that the Matheson bill in the provisions singled out by the governor does not differ essentially from the present Mulberger law, and that the questions have already been ruled on in previous opinions from the attorney general's department.

Governor Blaine asked whether "any person has the right to manufacture for his own use or for the use of his family, any wines, such as may be made out of grapes, clover, jandelons, elderberries, and wines made from other products."

To this the attorney general replied that "there has been no material change from the Mulberger law. Before the passage of the Matheson bill, this department held that intoxicating liquors could not be manufactured for home use, and the same ruling must be made under this law. This infant industry, home brewing, distilling, etc., is no more protected under the Matheson bill than it was under the Mulberger law."

Inquiry of Governor Blaine, whether "if the bill prohibits the manufacture of such wines, the prohibition commissioner, his deputies, or any officer, has the right to search a private dwelling under the process of a search warrant," was answered in the negative.

"The bill under consideration authorizes a search only where premises are being used for unlawful sale of intoxicating liquors," the attorney general rules.

Replying to the query of the governor as to what the Matheson bill prescribed as intoxicating liquors, Attorney General Morgan said that "the interpretation given in the same language of the Mulberger law by your opinion while attorney general to the district attorney of Waukesha county."

DUBLIN CUSTOM HOUSE FIRE LAID TO SINN FEINERS

Five Million Dollar Building Total Loss, it is Expected; Bombs Reported Thrown into Building

THREE KILLED IN FIGHTING FOLLOWING THE FIRE

Armed Men Attack Soldiers on Way to Scene of Fire

DUBLIN.—By the Associated Press.—The Dublin custom house was set afire by a large number of Sinn Feiners at 1:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, says a statement issued from Dublin Castle at 3 p. m. By the time the fire brigade attacked the flames they had taken such a firm hold that it was doubtful if much of the building could be saved, the statement adds.

It was said that four auxiliary policemen were wounded and seven Sinn Feiners killed, 11 wounded and 65 taken prisoner.

Blame Sinn Fein

LONDON.—By the Associated Press.—The custom house in Dublin, says a Central News dispatch from that city, was burned Wednesday afternoon. The burning, adds the message, is attributed to Sinn Feiners. The fire, says this account, started at 1:15 o'clock, the flames breaking out simultaneously throughout the building, which was totally destroyed. It was one of the finest buildings in Dublin and cost one million pounds.

Another account states that the custom house was set on fire through bombs thrown into the building. The railway bridge running past the building was occupied by a large number of men, upon whom a fusillade was opened. Others in the immediate vicinity of the custom house were also fired upon.

Lorry loads of the military were bombed as they were driving to the scene. The soldiers fired machine guns, rifles and revolvers and several persons were seen to fall. So far as known three persons were killed.

The affair seems to have been a most elaborately organized attack. Armed men guarded all the approaches to the custom house to prevent the saving of the building.

Shortly afterward Liberty hall, the headquarters of the Irish Transport workers, was set on fire and destroyed.

CAFETERIA PATRONS ARE WARNED AGAINST LEAVING THEIR GUM

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—When patrons of a downtown cafeteria grasped their trays Wednesday noon they saw a sign which read:

"Don't park your gum here."

Some swallowed their gum in rage, others opened their mouths so wide in surprise that the wads fell out. A waitress said she counted 139 pieces of gum at one table last week.

HARDING PARTY BACK AT WASHINGTON TODAY

WASHINGTON.—President and Mrs. Harding and their party returned to Washington Wednesday. The presidential yacht Mayflower reached her dock at the navy yard at 2:30 a. m. on the return trip from New York.

WOOD'S AUTOMOBILE FALLS INTO RIVER; GENERAL UNINJURED

TUGUEGARIO, Cagayan Province, Philippines, May 21.—(Delayed.)—By The Associated Press.—The automobile of Major General Leonard Wood, chief member of the mission investigating conditions in the Philippine Islands at the request of President Harding, fell into Pinacanan river, near the Cagayan route here yesterday, while being ferried across the stream. General Wood escaped uninjured but an hour was required to pull the vehicle from the water.

SCHOOL BOARD AT OSHKOSH DEADLOCKED ON SUPERINTENDENT

OSHKOSH, Wis.—The new school board of Oshkosh, consisting of seven members elected at large and one Mayor A. C. McHenry, representing the commission council, established a record Tuesday night for a long drawn out deadlock in its effort to choose a superintendent of the public schools of the city to succeed M. N. MacIver. Sixty-four ballots were taken in many hours of argument and deliberation and the board finally adjourned to meet again Friday evening, the line-up resting with four ballots for George L. Simpson of Eau Claire, a former Oshkosh young man; three for Charles Bishop of Portage and one for Miss May Schreiber of New York, formerly of Oshkosh. Simpson's candidacy was pushed by the local post of the American Legion because he served in the world war, and Mayor McHenry was his most ardent champion.

FARM RESIDENCE BURNS WITH SIX CHILDREN HOME

The residence of William Selke three miles south of Pickwick and 18 miles from La Crosse, was destroyed by fire when the six children of Mr. and Mrs. Selke, the oldest only 14, were alone in the home. None, however, was burned. Mr. Selke had started for Winona at the time to haul a load of grain and Mrs. Selke had gone to the home of her mother. The news was brought to Mr. Selke while he was in Winona by a neighbor. The building was in two parts, one of log construction and one built more recently, each part containing two rooms. Mr. Selke estimates his loss at $2000 about evenly divided between building and contents. He carried no insurance.

MEMORIAL DAY COMMITTEE TO MEET TONIGHT

The general committee in charge of the Memorial day observance will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock tonight.

TWO KILLED IN LABOR RIOTS AT BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES.—Two persons were killed and several wounded in fighting here Tuesday between union and nonunion port workers.

CUT OIL PRICES

PITTSBURGH Pa.—Further reductions in the price of crude oil were announced here Wednesday by the principal purchasing agency. The new prices are:

Pennsylvania crude, $3.00; Corning $1.90; Cable $1.81; Somerset $1.60; Somerset Light $1.80.

The reductions came as a surprise to oil men who had expressed the belief that the bottom of the market had been reached for the present.

MYSTERY IN SHOOTING OF TRUCK DRIVER

Martin Syverson, Alleged to Have Quarreled With McKenzie Over Woman, is Being Held by Police

CHARLES PARKER OF LANSING ALSO SOUGHT BY THE POLICE

Miss Blanche Kram Says that McKenzie Left Her Home Two Hours Before Shooting

McKenzie to Recover

Shortly after 1 o'clock Dr. Jens Rosholt, the attending physician, stated that the condition of McKenzie was favorable and that he would probably recover. He said the operation of extracting the bullet from his chest had not as yet been performed, but that it perhaps would be possible to do so on Thursday. The bullet is lodged under the skin on the left chest, above the heart. It did not pierce the lung, Dr. Rosholt said.

SHOT by an unknown assailant through his bedroom window as he slept, Ben McKenzie, 30, a truck driver, is at St. Francis hospital in a serious condition, with a bullet wound over his heart.

Martin Syverson, 36, a messenger and porter, is being detained at Central police station, pending investigation of his movements Tuesday evening, and at noon the police were looking for Miss Blanche Kram, a chambermaid at the Stoddard hotel, and sweetheart of the wounded man, over whom Syverson and McKenzie are reported to have had a quarrel.

The police are also searching for Charles Parker, of Lansing, another friend of Miss Kram. Parker and Syverson were named to the police by McKenzie as persons with whom he was not on good terms.

Shot While Asleep

McKenzie was shot about half an hour after midnight Wednesday morning in his room on the ground floor at 208 South Fifth street. According to Mrs. Hartley Rand, his landlady, he had been in his room for some time. She had also retired to her room at the back of the house and was asleep, she said, when she was awakened by hearing McKenzie call. She found her lodger standing in the dining room, she said, in his night clothes, holding his hand to his left breast.

Operator Heard Two Voices

Florence Marshall, telephone operator on duty in the toll room just above where the shooting took place, told a reporter that the report of the firearm was undistinct and that it sounded "more like a click" than the report of a revolver.

Stepping to the window immediately, Miss Marshall declared that she heard two voices below close to the window, and then a noise which sounded like a person running out of the alley. Asked if she had seen anyone, Miss Marshall declares she had not. After notifying the police the operator said she heard a voice moaning in the room of the house.

"Somebody shot me," according to Mrs. Rand. "Get light and call the police. The number is 404."

Then, according to Mrs. Rand, while she was calling the police station McKenzie staggered into the front room and fell upon the floor, still clutching his breast. He lay there until the police came a few minutes later, and refused any efforts at assistance.

Afraid of Light

"He seemed terrified," said Mrs. Rand, "more than in pain. I wanted to bring the light in and attend to his wound, but he wouldn't let me. He wouldn't let me unlock the door, either."

"He'll shoot again; keep that light on!"

FRANK H. LEONARD - LECTURES FOR THE LOCAL SCIENTISTS

"Spiritual Regeneration" is Topic of Christian Science Lecture at Pioneer Hall

A lecture on Christian Science entitled "Spiritual Regeneration" was delivered Tuesday evening at Pioneer hall by Frank H. Leonard, C. S. B., of Chicago, Ill., member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The lecture was under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city.

Mr. Leonard said in part:
"Christian Science was first brought to my attention in the fall of 1884 and under the following circumstances: About half my life up to that time had been spent in hell. The physicians all said I had been born with an incurable organic disease, and that it was improbable that I would live to reach manhood. Their statements seemed about to be proved true when, through a case of healing, Christian Science was brought into our home.
This led to my having Christian Science treatment, so successfully that three months later our family physician said a miracle had been performed and that I was absolutely free from any physical disease.

"Because of my condition, and as a preparation for what was deemed inevitable, God had been explained to me far more than is usual with a small child, and the statement frequently made that He sent sickness and suffering as a chastening and purifying preparation for the joys of the kingdom of heaven. Naturally, however, the only thing I thought of was the suffering; and when I was told that God caused it a terrible sense of fear and of helplessness arose, when love and trust should have been present.
We can never love nor trust anything of which we are afraid; therefore the thoughts about God were locked inside my consciousness, because of my fear of giving them utterance. The name, and not the nature, of God, then, as now, was all that most people knew; so my surprise was great and unqualified when I learned that the healing work in Christian Science is accomplished through a right knowledge of God; that there is nothing peculiar or secret about the work done, nor is the ability to do it confined to a select few; it is to be acquired through growth in grace. In fact, Christian Science gives humanity a clear apprehension of the birthright of man, of how to gain it, and how to use it.

"It has been said that the Christian Scientists are too familiar with God.

BRINGING UP FATHER

They are familiar with God because, knowing Him to be what He is, knowing Him to be both the Father and Mother of all His children, they go to Him with all their troubles, sure that His love and wisdom dispel them. It is just, however, in this connection to say that no people on earth so venerate, worship, and adore Him as do Christian Scientists, and this is true because He never fails them in their extremity.

"God and Mind are one. There has been much controversy amongst those who do not call themselves Christian Scientists over this basic statement in Christian Science, though why there should be is incomprehensible. Mrs.
Eddy has advanced no new fact in this statement, but has put into modern language the fact which John speaks of in his gospel. The first two verses in the first chapter of John are as follows: 'In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God.'
A simple analysis will show the correlation between this quotation and Mrs.
Eddy's when she says that God and Mind are one. What is the 'Word'?
It is the expression of the thought which precedes it. And what is thought? It is the expression of activity of the Mind which thinks it.
And so we can state that it logically is as correct to say, 'In the beginning was Mind, and Mind was with God, and Mind was God. The same was in the beginning with God. When we are willing to accept the fact that God and Mind are one, then we let that Mind be in us which was also in Christ Jesus (Science and Health,
p. 497), and the result is the accomplishment of the works Jesus did and told us to do. We cannot think wrong, and consequently cannot do wrong.

living. Christian Scientists pray for the spiritual knowledge of the allness of God, that they may express patience, meekness and a consecrated and concentrated clinging to God.
"In closing permit me to say this about Mrs. Eddy. She stands alone in modern history as the one who through consecration has been able to point out and to prove the spiritual import of the life and works of Jesus the Christ, showing us individually how to use them in our daily walks, how to make of them for all time a living, virtue, irresistible, irrefutable, and irreversible power, to the tearing down of the strongholds of evil and the establishment of His kingdom on earth as it is in heaven. God placed His command upon her, and she obeyed it, and lifted the Christ up from the earth, out from matter and into Spirit, until we see all men are beginning to be drawn unto Him, and the Scriptures are fulfilled.

"Mrs. Eddy wrote, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' as health to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.'

It brings to us the very presence of God so clearly, so vitally, and so usably that as time sinks into obscurity, and the glories of the eternal God become ascendant in thought, all the earth shall call her blessed of God, a messenger of peace and holiness to all mankind.

"And now, brethren, in the words of Paul (Acts 20:32), 'I commend you to God and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all
them which are sanctified.'

Sic 'em, Gamaliel!
PRESIDENT HARDING'S public speeches to date have not been distinguished for unusual clarity of expression or definiteness of policy, but his address on Monday before the Academy of Political Science in New York was a notable exception. One gathered the impression of a long-damned and cumulative pressure of impatience breaking bounds in the speech, and the emphasis with which the president paid his respects to place-holding politicians was refreshing after the platitudes and ambiguities of most of his previous utterances.

The country will wish the president the utmost prosperity with his announced determination to lop off the useless salaries and the inefficient job-holders. As President Taft's efficiency commission demonstrated the federal service is honeycombed with entirely dispensable jobs and politically-selected pay-collectors. The net waste and leakage of government revenue through these channels of inefficiency is enormous, and a really sincere and genuine effort to stop it would be of the greatest benefit, particularly with the country burdened as it is now with the largest taxes in its history. How President Harding will attack the pruning is yet to be seen, but the vigor and positiveness of his pledge to do it is a hopeful augury that the effort will be made.

There will be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth in Washington when the knife begins, and the president's prediction that he will "lose a good deal of immediate loyalty on the part of a certain class of politicians" is not in the least overdrawn. Mr. Harding will be called an ingrate, a piker, a demagogue and imagination knows not what else. He will have need of the "resolute courage" he foresees the job will require. But on the other hand there must be some fortification of his determination in the self-evident fact that the rank and file of voters and taxpayers will rise up and call down celestial blessings on the executive head for this attention to their needs. One can hardly think of an undertaking the president could begin which would be more quick and certain a path to the affections of his countrymen than a determined, sincere effort to get the government a dollar's worth of service for every dollar of operating expense.

What You Should Eat
SPAIN'S decadence is shown by the fact that the staple food there is beans, says a writer in the Spanish La Vanguardia. Beans are easy to cook. All the cook has to do is to put 'em in a pot of water, and let 'em boil. Mental laziness is revealed in a cook who boils beans day after day, avoiding the exertion required to figure out a more varied fare. Those who are content to eat beans day after day reveal a similar mental sloth. At any rate, that is the opinion of this observer in bearded Spain. Some men everywhere order the same luncheon, day after day. Does that indicate a tendency to lapse into a rut? Yes, perhaps, if the unvaried fare is just a habit. No, if it is the result of experiments which demonstrated that a certain combination is best suited to the individual's taste and requirement. What's your order?

If You're Down in the Mouth
OF 3,256 French villages in which all life was suspended during the war, 3,216 have come back to life. The inhabitants have returned to rebuild their homes and their fortunes. The remaining forty villages were so shot to pieces as to be altogether uninhabitable.
We human beings are a wonderful breed, after all, even with our faults. We are knocked down, and apparently out, but before long we are on our feet again, and, wiping the blood from our faces, we go back with a smile to whatever we happened to be doing.
Cities crumble, fortunes are wiped out, but faith and hope and love are eternal, and together they resume their song in men's hearts soon after the first shock of disaster.
What American soldier believed the inhabitants would ever return to the wrecked French villages whence they had fled? Desolation and ruin seemed complete. As a picture of despair it seemed nothing could be added to the scene. And yet the current of life flows strong again in all but forty of those villages, and doubtless, the cabbages and the turnips soon will be bursting through earth that was churned by shell-fire and covered with the debris of crushed stone.

There is no irreparable desolation except that which we nurture in our own hearts.
There is no hopelessness except that which we hold to our bosoms as if it were a treasure of rare price. Hope and faith are trying to sing in our hearts always, if we will but listen.
If you are down in the mouth the story of the reviving French villages should give you new courage.

The Eternal Mystery
A SWEET-PEA SEED, after lying dormant 5,000 years in the clenched hand of an Egyptian mummy, was taken to Cincinnati and planted in the garden of Mrs. Samuel H. Taft. The seed sprouted. It produced flowers and more seed—enough to help buy a mummy for the Cincinnati Museum. The same has been done with wheat found in ancient tombs. What is the mysterious thing in those seeds that could sleep fifty centuries without dying? Answer that and you solve the Eternal Mystery: What is life? Life—creature of machinery so fragile and minute that even the microscope cannot discover its secrets—is more lasting than granite. Some man, some woman, placed in a tomb 5,000 years ago, still lives in you. Were they extinguished? Or, like the Egyptian seed, do they merely sleep, awaiting some final awakening?

Maybe it Belongs to You
ABOUT $30,000,000 in bank deposits, the owners of which cannot be found, are dormant in American national banks. Now and then, some heir gets wind of one of these forgotten bank accounts—and the accumulated interest is so staggeringly large in some cases that it jolts many people into habits of thrift. Back of this money is more romance, mystery, intrigue and crime than all the movie scenario writers in Kingdom-Come could think up in a year. Plenty of people are absent-minded, but their lapse of memory seldom extends to hard-earned simoleons salted in the bank. Sudden death, misadventure or criminal flight often are back of forgotten bank deposits.
Whenever one of your near relatives dies, make it a point to find out every bank where he carried a deposit. Go to that bank and learn whether there's a balance. You might find a windfall.

Short Story

A TRIAL TRIANGLE

BY DORA MOLLAN
Rose Hall came out of the West, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. O. Slater Hall, and her father, Charles S. Hall. Rose came joyously; her mother acquiescently; her father reluctantly, with many protestations. Papa Hall stayed just long enough to get his family escorted to an exclusive hotel and then hustled back, to see to it that nobody made hay of his business in the sunshine of his absence; for it was his boast that he owed his success to strict personal attention to details.
Mr. Hall left an imposing bank balance subject to his daughter's signature, and for two weeks Rose was sublimely happy. She was a bewitching little blonde, with softly waving hair, to which a fashionable hair-dresser did wondrous things, and a petite figure that delighted the exclusive modistes. Innumerable oblongs of pink paper bearing the imprint of a big metropolitan bank passed into willing hands and in exchange Rose received masses of chiffons and laces, satins and velvets, brocade and furs, which the fairy wand of commerce summons for my lady's adornment from the ends of the earth.
For a year previous to the realization of her dream of spending a winter in New York Rose had studied religiously the Sunday editions of the great city's newspapers. The result was two sheets of letter paper covered with notes of places and things she intended to see. Theaters, famous and obscure; restaurants, fashionable and merely queer; museums, art exhibits, foreign quarters, odd backwaters that casual visitors usually missed; everything—even down to the menageries in the parks—Rose had vowed to see it all. And now she was ready to begin. But how was she to go unaccompanied?
In Mrs. O. Slater Hall, Rose could find no solution of her problem. Mrs. Hall possessed two enormous interests, and two only. Her aches and pains and the movies. In her home town it kept her "humping," as Rose expressed it, to keep up with the changes in the programmes of three movie theaters. In New York even unlimited leisure and endless taxis could not bring success to her desperate efforts to see all the "releases." Rose tried the companionship of Marie, her maid.
Marie was blasé, unappreciative—no fun at all. Besides, she uttered veiled threats of leaving. Rose turned in her extremity to a certain friendly middle-aged clerk of the hotel, who knew all things.
"If you don't mind the cost," suggested he, "you might engage some decent, practical young man who knows his New York as a sort of permanent escort. Oh, it's quite often done." The clerk knew of such a person, until recently a guest of the hotel himself, but a bit out of luck and having some difficulty finding a job. The clerk would make a point of getting in touch with him if Rose wished.
The idea was utterly novel to Rose—but so was New York. She told the clerk to bring on his courier or escort or whatever he might be. And the very next day he did. The young man, who gave his name as Jerald Holmes, seemed all he was represented to be so Rose engaged him. Then it was a case of breaking the news to her mother. Mrs. Hall bestirred herself to be a little shocked at this caprice of her daughter's, but in the end Rose had her own way, as always.
Jerald Holmes proved to be a delightfully sympathetic companion. As the days went by Rose's enjoyment of the things she had looked forward to was complete; for wasn't she seeing them properly dressed and properly escorted?
Also she was glad—very glad. Rose succeeded in convincing herself—that Mr. Holmes was married. In their first interview he had mentioned a wife "back home" for whom he intended to send when he was settled permanently. Meanwhile, he assured Rose, acting as her escort was an exceedingly pleasant way of bridging over what would have been for him a very awkward period.
If their conversation ever verged on the personal, it was the man who always steered it away; so it was with never a hint to build on that Jerald connected a picture of Mrs. Jerald Holmes. Because her escort had the look of an outdoors man, she placed his wife as the tailor-made type. She probably combed her hair smoothly back and affected those mighty good looking sport suits and sailor hats that one saw in the shops. Unconsciously Rose imagined Mrs. Holmes a direct contrast to herself.
Yes, Rose assured herself, it was far better that her escort should be a married man—provided his wife did not object, and she had Mr. Holmes's word for that. For otherwise he might attempt to make love to her in the many opportunities thrown in his way, and then, of course, she would be obliged to snub him. Or he might be a fortune hunter! This train of thought always landed Rose at the same terminal—that she was Jerald Holmes was married—of course!
It was afternoon on one of those mild sunny days which occasionally lose their way in the calendar and stumble into the wrong month. Rose and her escort were strolling in the park and amusing themselves by feeding those little furry gratters, the squirrels. Rose had never seen Jerald Holmes in such a happy mood. It was contagious, but at the same time she couldn't help wondering what had caused it. So she questioned him very casually. "Had some good news?"
"Yes," answered her companion, "how did you guess it? Word came this morning that a position I was waiting for is open, and I leave New York at the end of the week."
So his position was out of town! Well, what difference did it make to her where it was? If he did not see fit to tell her more about it she

QUEER NOISES COME FROM DARK CAVE AS EDDIE LOOKS INSIDE
(Third day of "The Finding of Paris.")
"Who's to go in first?" Eddie placed his hands on his hips and stood looking at Sam for a decision. They stood in front of the entrance to Dolan's cave. "You want to go?"
For a fact, neither young man seemed over-anxious for the honor of being the first to venture into the dark mysterious hole, said to be frequented by bats. "You'll admit it is ticklish business."
"You can go if you want to, Eddie," replied Sam, picking up a stone and tossing it idly into the creck. "but, of course, if you're a-scairt I'll go. I think I'm a little too fat to get through that door. I might get stuck. Maybe you better go."
"Huh—scairt. Say, I guess you're the one that's scairt. I ain't. An' jus' to show you, I'm goin' first. Here," Eddie handed Sam one end of a short piece of clothesline, (which Sam accepted with a sigh of relief), that he had brought along, the other end of which he proceeded to knot to his belt. "When I pull this," he said, "you come on in."
Then he got down on his hands and knees and crawled slowly toward the small round opening in the side of the little hill, that led into the "haunted cave."
He was just about to stick his head in when suddenly he turned his face to Sam standing in back holding to the rope.
"You want to go first Sam?" he offered in that auctioneer's "for the third and last time" tone.
"Aw—what's the matter—scairt? I thought so. Gosh, I wish I'd said I'd go first. If I'd known you was a scairt-calf!"
"Who's a scairt-calf? Gee whiz, can't you take a joke? I was only foolin'. Here I go." And Eddie again faced the entrance.
He had crawled but about a foot when he stopped suddenly.
"Did you hear that?" he whispered hoarsely to Sam.
"Hear what?" gruffly asked Sam, suspecting, perhaps, that his pal was "stalling." "Now, I didn't and you didn't either. Go on in if you're going."
"But I did hear something—just like a baby cryin', an' it come from inside that cave!"

Catherine E. Donally Roberts, of Huntington, W. Va., is, perhaps, the champion chicken grower in her town. One of her hens laid an egg that weighed seven and a half ounces, and was six and a half by seven and five-eighths inches around the middle. This egg is even larger than the egg presented the United States Department of Agriculture by Beatrice Aabye, of Evanston, Ill., as a New Year's present.

What's It All About?
BY DR. WILLIAM E. CARTON
HERE is a popular play, now on the boards in several cities, in which the tension of an overstrained tragedy is relieved by the spectators at different stages according to their insight discover to be burlesque, is relieved by a character who emerges at each moment of high suspense and asks, "What's all the shooting for?"
Some such question needs to be propounded at frequent intervals as one beholds the drama of life. What is it all about? What kind of world is this?
There are those who believe it to be a bad world, hopelessly bad. There are others who believe that the effort to make it appear good is the effort to create perfection out of the sum of imperfections. There are others who hold that it is the best of all possible worlds.
To me it seems that this may not be the most profitable form of the question. We do not know enough

ADDITIONAL REVENUE MUST COME FROM THE TAXPAYER--SEVERSON

Declares Five Million Deficit
Will be Met by Surtax on Incomes

TAXATION PROBLEM UP FOR CONSIDERATION NEXT WEEK

Hearings on Finance Matters are Scheduled

MADISON, Wis.—Taxpayers are going to meet the $5,000,000 additional revenue likely to be required for operation of the government during the coming two years through a surtax on incomes, in the opinion of Senator Herman J. Severson, of Iowa, administration leader and author of the important surtax proposal.

The legislature will start tangleing itself up in the taxation problem next week when hearings will be scheduled before the finance committee. At that time all appropriation needs will have been established and the amount of additional revenue required determined. Tax measures will then be recommended by the finance committee which is expected to report a bill of its own to cover the needed earnings.

Senator Severson says that he will make a fight for his proposal in its original form, the same as was passed by both houses of the legislature in the special session of 1919 and then vetoed by Governor Philip.

He says that he has assurance of enough votes to pass it in the senate at the present time.

The Dahl bill, supported in the assembly, will meet defeat in the senate, Senator Severson said, because of some of its provisions, particularly the removal of the personal property offset and the secrecy clause, which are not acceptable to a majority of the senators.

The Severson surtax proposal would raise an additional $6,000,000 for the state by levying a graduated tax against incomes over $5,000, running from two per cent on $8,000 incomes to 6 per cent on incomes of $12,000 and over. All this revenue would be set aside in a separate fund with 50 per cent going to common schools, 10 per cent to normal schools, 25 per cent to the university, and 15 per cent to the highway fund.

Attempt of Senator Severson to attach a surtax provision to the teachers' retirement fund bill as the source of the $1,000,000 needed annually to operate the new pension system was defeated by three votes in the upper house. On this roll call three regular administration followers broke ranks, according to the senator, and will vote favorably on his bill together with one or two others.

It is the opinion of Senator Severson that passage of the privilege tax on automobiles, by which it is estimated $4,000,000 will be raised annually, would not affect the situation with regard to the surtax.

Tax proposals are once again taking the limelight on the legislative stage, now that appropriation measures are being cleaned up and the final days of the session in sight.

There is a decided possibility that the senate and assembly will get deadlocked on the tax problem and turn out no new taxation measures at this time. Many members predict this situation.

MEAT IMPORTS IN YEAR

TOTAL 160,000,000 POUNDS

PLANS FOR PAGEANT IN MID-SUMMER TO BE PERFECTED SOON

Meeting Called for Friday Night to Adopt By-Laws and Ratify Officers

Organization of the La Crosse Community Pageant association will be perfected at a meeting to be held at the La Crosse club at 7:30 Friday evening.

The corporation papers have been returned from Madison and all details preliminary to the organization have been arranged. At the meeting Friday night the by-laws will be adopted and the election of officers ratified.

Plans are going forward rapidly for the big historical pageant to be staged here July 16 and 18. Material is being gathered for the various spectacular episodes which will feature the production, and other details are being arranged.

POOLS MONEY TO PAY "FRIEND'S" FINE SWENSON GETS SLIP

"When a fellow needs a friend"—Monday Peter Burg, Bert Hartley and Ray Swenson were arraigned in police court on a charge of being drunk in a public place in the city of La Crosse.

After hearing their charge, each member of the trio pleading guilty, Judge Hunt passed sentence of a fine of $7.50 in each case.

Being the first man in line, Burg left the required amount with the sergeant. He was discharged.

After taking a complete inventory of the purses of the other two men, it was found that Hartley had an even $5, while Swenson possessed $4.

Turning to Swenson after apparently arriving at a solution of the problem Hartley said: "Slip me your four bucks so I can pay my fine and I'll get out and round up some of your friends to get you out."

Here's the sad part—Swenson slipped Hartley the "four bucks," who in return gave Swenson the "slip" with the result that the latter is still in the hoosegow waiting for the friends that Hartley was going to "round up" to pay his fine.

Hartley was $1.50 to the good—police records show Swenson's fine yet unpaid.

LOCKS CHILDREN OUT MOTHER TAKES HER LIFE

KENOSHA, Wis.—Locking her two children out of the house, Mrs. Dominicka Babonis, 36 years of age, hanged herself to a bed post in her

TWENTIETH CENTURY ANNUAL BANQUET IS HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

THE CLOSING function of the year's activities of the Twentieth Century club was a banquet which was held Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce. It was one of the handsomest affairs ever given by the club and marked the end of a most enjoyable and profitable course of study. Each member of the club was accorded the pleasure of entertaining a guest, over two hundred invitations being issued.

The tables were unusually beautiful and were arranged by Mr. O. E. Shaf. Centerpieces were tall baskets of purple and lavender iris, and at either side were vases of pink carnations and ferns. A scattering of ferns carried out a dainty effect.

The following pleasing program was carried out:

Invocation—Rev. Edwin C. Dixon. A Word of Welcome—Mrs. J. A. L. Brantfield, president of the club. Vocal solos—A. Kio down Moses (Barthelme); b. Rolling Down to Rio (Edward German). Encore, Drak to Me Only With Thine Eyes, Mr. Carroll Hobbs, accompanied by Miss Olive Harris.

Greetings—Mrs. Frank E. Davis of Minneapolis, a former member of the club.

Vocal solos—A. An Indian Bird Song; b. Love in the Wind (McFadden). Miss Stella Trane, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Curtis.

Address—American Race Problems and the Future of the United States—Prof. Don B. Lescowier of the University of Wisconsin.

Closing song—On Wisconsin. Selected parts of Prof. Lescowier's speech, which was intensely interesting, follow:

"The future of our country with its resources and its location, will largely be determined by the racial and cultural characteristics of our population. We have three big population problems in the United States: (a) The problem created by the breeding of thousands of feeble-minded, degenerate and criminal individuals in our own population; (b) the possible immigration of excessive numbers of backward peoples from Europe and Asia, which may endanger our standards of living; and (c) the problem of race conflict, which is a conflict between the white race and the negro and oriental races on American soil."

"The Californians have been particularly hostile to the Japanese. This hostility has had three tap-roots: First, the success of the Japanese in getting jobs and business and some branches of farming away from the whites. Second, the intermarriage of Japanese with whites which has stirred up the color prejudice. Third, the assumption of social equality and intermarriage with the Japanese."

"There are two sets of propagandists agitating the Japanese question. First, those residents of the Pacific coast who want to drive the Japanese out of this country or at least prevent the growth of the Japanese population and, second, those who favor Japanese immigration. The Reverend Sidney Gulick is perhaps the leading individual among those who maintain that the Japanese are able to maintain an advanced and economic political and cultural civilization as the native American and that their color is insignificant."

"At the present time the immigration of Japanese men has been stopped for fourteen years under an agreement made between President Roosevelt and the Japanese government in 1907, but the immigration of Japanese women has been continued. Thousands of Japanese homes have been set up on the Pacific coast and a native born Japanese population is steadily growing. The Japanese immigrants have been unable to become American citizens but the children of Japanese born in this country are citizens by birth. Consequently the rising generation of Japanese will have the right of participation in American politics."

"The intensity of feeling on the Pacific coast against the Japanese indicates that if our present bars to Oriental immigration were lifted and Japanese immigration on a large scale should follow, as it would, intense race feeling between the whites and Japanese would develop. Their economic and intellectual efficiency would intensify rather than minimize the feeling due to race difference. Large scale Japanese immigration would produce a three-cornered race problem in the United States instead of simply a negro problem."

"What is the negro problem?"

"As I see it, it is simply this: Will the white race which is and always will be the dominant race in the United States, permit the negro to enjoy in fact the rights to which he is entitled in law? Few of us would question the statement that a native born negro has the same right as any other native born citizen to the suffrage, to free entrance to any occupation for which he is fitted, equal provision for him of such public services as schools, parks, hotels, trains, etc., and to the most complete expression possible of his personality."

"Here is what the negro wants, according to the statements made in his own newspapers: 'The negro wants the right to earn a decent livelihood; to accumulate property according to his ability; and to have his property rights protected. The negro wants better school facilities; a chance to educate his children; justice in the courts; and executions by law instead of by lynchers.' Hot Springs Echo, Sept. 20, 1920. The negro wants equal representation in legislative bodies, in labor congresses, political conventions, church councils, and on juries. Most of all, he wants the ballot, which he is denied in those sections where the largest numbers of negroes live."

"Few, I say, will deny in principle the contention of the negro that he should have the same treatment as a white man and be measured by the same standard of value. The essential difficulty which confronts every effort to grant the negro the true status of an American citizen is the inherent race antipathy and this antipathy seems to find its origin in the instinct for race purity. Of this the negroes are quite conscious. The editor of the Springfield Forum, a negro paper says, 'The average white man thinks that the negro wants to marry white women and all his reasoning revolves around this one thing, that he accepts as a fact. Every step which the negro makes toward intellectual, economic or political equality with the whites brings this question of social equality to the front. Consequently even though the laws grant the negro what he demands, it is the instinct to each individual white man to discriminate against him.'"

"Another vital problem is raised by the query, whether the attainment of education and economic efficiency which will enable the negro to compete with the whites will intensify the race friction due to the fear of race crossing. In the case of the Japanese we have a color race that is intelligent, educated and efficient. When the Japanese grew in California they intensified into hatred on the part of many whites a color prejudice that has remained relatively dormant. The assumption that the negro problem will be solved when the negro is educated and trained and least be questioned. Today the negro complains that the white press misrepresents him, that the police and the courts are not fair to him, that merchants in Chicago, Kansas City, New York, Detroit and other northern cities charge negroes from 25 per cent to 50 per cent more for the same grade of goods, that the negro pays twice as high rent as the white man for the same accommodations, that when work is slack the negro is laid off before less efficient whites and that his wages for the same work are lower, that the negro tenant is cheated by the white landlord, that the negro child receives inferior education and that the adult negro is not permitted to vote. These discriminations are perpetrated by individual white men or their organizations and have their root in race prejudice."

"It is evident that there are deep seated causes of race conflict in the United States which we at present do not know how to eliminate. As we look into the future, race conflict looms up as an increasing rather than decreasing problem in our national life, and as a national rather than a southern problem."

TREMPEALEAU BOY KILLED IN PLUNGE DOWN AN ELEVATOR

William R. Allen Drives Car Into Pit in Garage at Madison and Meets Death

William R. Allen, former university freshman, and resident of Trempealeau, died at Madison from injuries sustained when he drove a Ford car down an elevator shaft in the Schoolcraft garage and plunged to the bottom of the pit. An inquest will be held according to W. E. Campbell, coroner of Dane county.

The car turned over in the drop of more than 50 feet, crushing Allen underneath it. Employees of the garage removed him from underneath the wreckage and he was rushed to the Madison General hospital where he died shortly afterwards without regaining consciousness.

The elevator was being repaired and was at one of the upper floors. A ladder had been laid against the shaft opening. Allen attempted to drive the car to the entrance in preparation to put it on the elevator when it is believed he lost control of the machine. The car crashed through the ladder and plunged down the shaft.

Allen had been living with his sister, Miss Lois Allen at 115 North Hamilton street. Miss Allen is employed in the railroad commission offices in the capitol. He is also survived by his parents at the family home in Trempealeau. The body will be sent to Trempealeau from the Trautsch funeral parlors. Allen had been employed at the Schoolcraft garage for one month.

away," he said. Mrs. Rand declares. McKenzie did not see his assailant. He was awakened by his wound. Footprints outside the house showed that the shooter had crept up a narrow alleyway between the house and the telephone building next to it, stood in front of the window and fired through the screen and open window. Then he made off down the alleyway and across a garden in the rear, leaving deep footprints in the beds. He apparently climbed a high board fence in approaching and leaving the house, as the gate was locked.

Syversen Found in Bed

Officers came within a few minutes from the police station, according to Mrs. Rand, and took McKenzie to St. Francis in an ambulance. After a talk with McKenzie they set out in search of Syversen, who was found at his home, 300 King street. Syversen was in bed when the officers arrived. He denied all knowledge of the shooting, the police say, and said that he had returned home from his work at the Western Union office about 11 o'clock and had stayed at home. Mrs. Barbara Priebe, his housekeeper, corroborated his story that he had come home at 10 o'clock and said that to her knowledge he had not left the house again.

A 38-caliber revolver, empty, was found in Syversen's quarters. There were no powder marks on it, and so far as could be ascertained it had not been used recently.

Syversen is held at Central station. Chief Webster said at noon on Wednesday that he had not yet questioned him, pending the investigation of the affair which is being conducted.

Girl Tells of Quarrel

Miss Blanche Kram, 2023 Liberty street, was found by a reporter at the home of Syversen talking over the affair with Mrs. Priebe, the housekeeper. Miss Kram said she had no theory as to the shooting, but that McKenzie, so far as she knew, had had no trouble with anyone except Syversen and Parker. She told of a quarrel between McKenzie and Syversen several months ago on Pearl street, when she said McKenzie had told Syversen to "quit tagging her around." The men did not come to blows, she said, but had a strenuous argument.

Of Parker Miss Kram said that "McKenzie and he didn't like each other." She said she met Parker several years ago, and that while she had come out with him several times she had never been an intimate friend of his. She said she saw Parker last about a week ago, but that she merely talked to him for a little while and that there had been no mention of McKenzie's name.

Called on Her Before Shooting

McKenzie called at her home last night, she said, leaving about 10:30. Miss Kram's sister told a reporter that Syversen had been "butting in" between McKenzie and Blanche for some time. She said that he had several times stopped the girl on the street and warned her that "McKenzie was not a good man for her to go with." Blanche corroborated this, but denied that Syversen had made any threats against McKenzie.

A curious feature connected with the case is that Syversen formerly roomed at the Rand house, and occupied the same bed-room through the window of which McKenzie was shot Tuesday night. He moved several months ago.

McKenzie Recently in Trouble

On February 26, Tom O'Connor of Houston, Minn., made complaint before County Judge Brindley that he had been robbed of a watch and chain valued at $40. McKenzie was arrested and charged with theft from the person. He was bound over to circuit court under $1,000 bail. McKenzie declared he was too drunk at the time he was with O'Connor to recall any of the details of the alleged theft. Unable to furnish bail, McKenzie was held in the county jail from February 28 to May 9. In the meantime the district attorney recommended that the action in circuit court be dismissed and on May 7 McKenzie was arraigned before County Judge Brindley on a charge of petty larceny of O'Connor's watch. McKenzie pleaded guilty to that charge and was fined $20 and $3.16 costs. He paid the fine and costs on May 9 and was released from the county jail.

$40,000 IS VOTED BY COUNTY BOARD TO REPAIR STREETS

to the insurance committee in the special rules committee report and 9 for the report as it stood. When the report was amended eliminating mention of the committee it voted yes and two nay.

Mayor Bentley appeared before the board and spoke in behalf of the city's streets and asking for $40,000 from the county to aid the projects. The mayor said the city planned to reclaim 25 miles of streets and that it was hoped to resurface 16 miles this summer. The board unanimously voted to appropriate $40,000. The mayor also informed the board that it could get the assessment rolls printed for nine cents for every description on the assessment books.

When the special committee reported favorably on the purchase by the county for $1,500 the tract indexes to Clinton and Blackwell's (now vacated) made by Andrew Thompson when he was registrar of deeds, Mr. Pettigill objected to the board buying the indexes, saying that it would benefit no one except those living in these additions. Mr. Koppel also objected to the purchase of the indexes on the ground that it opened a new field for expenses that should be borne by those buying and selling lots in that locality.

Want Truck Traffic Regulated

The board voted to wire State Senator Clark that the supervisors favored and recommended the passage of the auto classification bill that classifies trucks according to weight, and power and regulates truck traffic over the highways of the state. The bill is designed to protect roads from the destruction that is being wrought, according to the supervisors, in the surface of the highways because of the enormous trucks carrying many tons of freight that pass over them daily.

Barney Olson's resolution for a continuance of the new causeway committee appointed to act with the city council committee in picking a route and for the appointment of a new member to take the place of E. E. Blashek, retired, was adopted. Another member will be appointed later.

The board decided to participate in the dedication of the service men's lot in Oak Grove cemetery, Sunday, June 12. The lot was recently turned over to the American legion by the county board committee. The supervisors will assemble at the courthouse at 9:30 a. m., June 12 and proceed to the cemetery in a body.

The board, on the recommendation of John Kindley will hold a picnic on June 15. A committee, composed of Messrs. Yerby, Ash, Schubert, Schaefer and Johnson will make the arrangements. Mr. Yerby suggested having the picnic at Ochler's care. All former members of the county board are to be invited to participate.

The board adjourned to meet again on August 2.

Wireless Stations in the Jungles

An all-British system of wireless stations from Cape Town to Oxford, Eng., is being planned. The chain will include the powerful station built by the Germans at Windhuk, Southwest Africa, which is reported to have sent messages directly to Berlin, a distance of more than 4,000 miles. A new station is to be erected at Nairobi, British East Africa, to receive the Windhuk messages. From there they will be relayed to Cairo and thence to Europe.

MARK CATLIN ASKED TO RESIGN SEAT IN STATE LEGISLATURE

Assembly Refuses to Receive Petition from Members of Farmers' Union

MADISON, Wis.—Resignation of Assemblyman Mark Catlin of Appleton, majority floor leader of the lower house, was asked by 100 members of the Farmers' union of Apple Creek, Outagamie county, in a petition which the assembly refused to receive Wednesday on a vote of 57 to 15.

Catlin asked that the petition be received, and voted against the motion to keep it off the record.

"The men signing this document do not live in my district," Assemblyman Catlin said. "I believe any associate from Outagamie county responsible for the move."

JUDGE LANDIS WEEPS WHEN HE COMMITS EX-SOLDIERS TO PEN

CHICAGO, Ill.—Judge K. M. Landis wept Wednesday as he sentenced three former soldiers to Leavenworth penitentiary for stealing goods from an interstate shipment.

"I guess I have been on the bench too long—I haven't much guts for this sort of thing," the judge sobbed.

Michael Healy, one of the three, presented citation for bravery for carrying ammunition to front line trenches through a German barrage.

The judge gave the three men a year and a day each, and promised to obtain a job for each after they served their sentence—if they would promise to go straight.

Artificial Veneer From Waste

An excellent "veneer" comes from Australia the result of a recent discovery manufactured from sawdust and other fibrous waste materials. The substance—named keltone—can be used for a variety of purposes, such as chair backs and seats, furniture generally veneers and wall and other paneling, and can be produced to represent excellent marble effects. It is capable of being bent freely for a variety of commercial purposes, worked with tools, sawn, bored, planed, sandpapered, etc., and will take nails with ease.

LEGISLATURE GIVEN POWER OF REMOVAL OVER STATE WORKERS

Hanson Interpellation Bill Approved by Assembly; Already Passed by Senate

MADISON, Wis.—Appointive officers in Wisconsin, including commissioners who serve six-year terms, will be directly under control of the legislature hereafter, subject to removal on a majority vote of both houses, as a result of final concurrence by the assembly in the C. B. Hanson interpellation bill.

The Rothe amendment which prescribed that the governor shall do the removing on recommendation of the legislature was accepted and the bill then passed, 63 to 8. Governor Blaine will sign the measure.

This action marks a departure from the prescribed means of control of appointive officers, generally exercised in this country by the executive. While the governor can continue to

HALF OF AUTOMOBILES IN STATE ARE FORDS SAYS ENGINEER HIRST

Therefore, He Maintains, Boost of License Fee Would Impose Unjust Burden

EXPLAINS PURPOSE OF TWO PER CENT AUTO PRIVILEGE TAX

Planned to Make Owners of Expensive Cars Pay More for Roads

MADISON, Wis.—Half of the automobiles owned in Wisconsin are Fords, Chief Engineer A. R. Hirst told the joint finance and highway committees yesterday in explaining that it would be unfair to increase automobile license fees $10. This is an increase from 46 per cent three years ago, Mr. Hirst said.

"Contrary to the general impression, people are buying Fords faster than ever," the highway engineer said. "Figures compiled for the state show an ever increasing number, and to add an ever increasing license to these cars would be to impose an unjust burden."

Explains Road Program
An adequate highway program for Wisconsin at no additional cost to anyone in the state except to those who own expensive automobiles and have large incomes with ability to pay, is provided for in the automobile privilege tax bill, Engineer Hirst explained to the committees.

The poor man will pay much less for roads than he ever uses than at present, he said, and likewise the man in the country will be relieved of an additional burden to an extension of the program which will have to be carried out within the next years to meet the new federal aid project calling for an additional expenditure of over 2,500,000 annually.

Scene from "The Pace at Your Window," the William Fox special at the Riviera Wednesday; Strand on Thursday and Casino on Friday and Saturday.

Would Raise Four Millions

Mr. Hirst explained the bill, which will raise over $4,000,000 annually from a 2 per cent tax on automobile valuations, and declared that it was put forward as a means of co-ordinating all of the highway work of the state, placing the cost of construction and maintenance solely on automobile owners who are practically the sole users of the roads.

Explanation was made that the measure was not solely a tax measure, but rather called for changes in administration, providing for adequate supervisory and administrative forces and opening the way to extension of activities of the highway commission to cope with the complicated highway situation.

Removes Tax Offset

The proposed tax would result in no additional expense to motor vehicles except insofar as it wipes out the offset on personal property, Mr. Hirst said. It also frees the state from any direct tax for highway purposes.

Personal property taxes on automobiles totalled $1,200,000 for the last year, Mr. Hirst pointed out in answering objections that funds would be taken away from localities to an extent that would hamper the local units of government, should the bill be passed.

Objection was centered on features of the measure by representatives of cities who declare that it would take away much of their revenue now derived from automobile personal property tax.

WATERTOWN WOMAN IS NAMED TO CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

MADISON, Wis.—Mrs. Elizabeth Kading, woman lawyer of Watertown, was appointed a member of the civil service commission by Governor Blaine Tuesday morning to replace L. G. Kellogg of Ripon, whose term expires June 21. The appointment is for six years.

Selection of Mrs. Kading as a member of the civil service commission is the second choice of a woman to fill an important position by Governor Blaine. His first selection was Miss Maud Neprud as a member of the board of control.

The governor's appointee is a practicing attorney, a member of her husband's law firm. She is a graduate of Valparaiso university in the class of 1900.

At present Mrs. Kading is one of two women court commissioners in Wisconsin, having held the position for ten years. She is an independent in politics.

VIROQUA WINS IN GREAT BATTLE OVER HILLSBORO TEAM

Twelve Inning Pitchers' Battle Goes to Viroqua Club Last Sunday, Score of 1 to 0

SCHULTZ PITCHES GOOD BALL FOR WINNING CLUB

Drops Twenty-two Men at Plate; Allows Eight Hits

By E. M. NIE
VIROQUA, Wis.—One of the greatest ball games ever played in the Western Wisconsin League took place at Hillsboro, Sunday, May 22, when the Viroqua team shut out the strong Hillsboro team, 1 to 0 in a twelve inning struggle. As the game progressed and inning after inning went by with no scores, it was predicted that the one run would win the game, which was the case. The Viroqua team hit the ball harder and oftener than Hillsboro, but good support by the Hillsboro fielders prevented scoring until the twelfth inning.

It was a pitcher's battle from beginning to end, with Schultz the Viroqua player having the best of the argument from start to finish. Schultz pitched a wonderful game. He kept control of the situation at all times and only in one of the twelve innings did more than four men face him. In six innings the Hillsboro men went out in one-two-three order. He struck out twenty-two men allowed eight hits, only one-half of these being of the "duffy" order.

Viroqua had men on bases in nearly every inning but could not get a hit when it went to bat in a run. In the last half of the ninth Hillsboro threatened to score. With one gone, the Hillsboro third baseman singled. Sorenson, pitcher, sent a long fly between left field and center which landed safe. The runner on first attempted to get home, but a perfect throw by P. Garin, left fielder to P. Garin, third base, was relayed perfectly home in time to get the decision. Viroqua scored in their half of the twelfth. After one man was gone, Curtis was safe on an error of shortstop, J. Garin singled, advancing Curtis to third, and Morrison singled through third base bringing Curtis home with what proved to be the winning run.

In their half of the twelfth Hillsboro again threatened. An error by Viroqua shortstop, a hit and Sorenson being hit on the hand by a pitched ball filled the bases with two gone. The next man up got Schultz in the hole with the call of two and three. Here is where Schultz showed his nerve. Another ball would have forced in the tying run, but Schultz burned a fast one across his knees, for the third strike, and the batsman took the count, which ended the game. Schultz had wonderful control. Not a base on balls on either side. Sorenson pitched an excellent game, but allowed twelve hits and struck out eight men.

WILE BROTHERS TEAM WINS JUNIOR LEAGUE OPENER TUESDAY NIGHT

JUST THINK THIS OVER

Are you a booster for the construction of a baseball park that will outclass anything of its kind in western Wisconsin? Do you enjoy standing on your pins while watching a game, or would you rather sit down on a comfortable seat where your view of the entire diamond is not obstructed?

These are two vital questions which you, as a baseball fan, will be called upon to answer within a day or so. The management of the Nelson Clothing company baseball team and the new La Crosse club have joined forces in an effort to subscribe sufficient cash to clear up the deficit for the construction of the bleachers. Let's show them we are with 'em in this proposition and if you are not approached on the subject, apply to Henry Wittenberg or Frank Mader and tell them what you will do.

The La Crosse Club 60's won two out of three games from the Vello Sweets at the Lotus alley Tuesday night. Miller did the feature rolling, driving for counts of 215, 190 and 225.

The La Crosse Hotels won three by forfeit from the Independents.

STAR GROCERY CREW DEFEATED 10 TO 6 AT JACKSON STREET

Losers Put up Keen Fight Throughout Contest; Unable to Overcome Lead

Playing the final game of the Junior baseball league schedule, the Wile Brothers' nine defeated the Star Grocery aggregation 10 to 6 at the Jackson street playgrounds Tuesday afternoon. The game was scheduled for Monday, but was postponed because of wet grounds. Although the Wile Brothers' team took the lead during the early part of the game, the Star Grocery's put up a keen fight throughout the contest, rallying in the sixth inning for three scores. The Wile Brothers' club went into the lead in the scoring in the initial innings of the game, but were held more in check by the Stars when they got their bearings.

Two features of the game were the home run in the third inning by Kolbicz, of the Wile Brothers, and the two unassisted double plays by Safford, of the Star Grocery team in the fourth and sixth frames. The Tigers met the fifth street sluggers for the second contest of the Junior league tonight at the Jackson street diamond. Competition between these teams is keen and it is expected that large numbers of followers of both clubs will be out in support of their players tonight.

PEERLESS CHAINS BEATEN BY MELROSE IN SUNDAY CONTEST

MELROSE, Wis.—A slugfest was witnessed at east end diamond at Winona last Sunday when the Melrose club won by an 18 to 12 score over the Peerless Chains of that city. Cannonball Moss was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning, Chapman replacing him. He received his beating in the seventh frame and Crowsky finished the game. Smith went the entire nine innings for the locals netting ten strikeouts. He had poor support.

The local club plays Black River Falls at that city Wednesday afternoon.

Social Pleasures

Pleasure is one of the great blessings of human life, both for its own sake and for its direct influence on character; it therefore demands not contempt or indifference, but thoughtful recognition. It is not pleasure, but something evil that may sometimes be associated with it, that needs weeding out from our lives; and if sociability had no other claim than the simple and innocent happiness it creates, it would still demand a high place in our regard.

MACKS STAGE NINTH INNING RALLY, 7-6

Recruit Pitcher Wins for Sox Over Senators, 6-5

ST. LOUIS—St. Louis defeated New York, 8 to 4, on Tuesday, pulling up a lead in the first two innings that the Yankees were unable to overcome. (Carpenter) Chitt ordered Mays from the game in the second inning for disputing a decision and took the same action with Schling in the fifth for the same offense. Boland was forced to leave the game in the sixth when his left hand was injured by a drive from Pingo's bat. Score: New York 000 103 000—4
St. Louis 250 010 000—8
Batteries—Mays, Piercy and Hoffmann; Schang, Burwell, Boland and Severid.

Macks, 7; Tigers, 6
DETROIT—Philadelphia staged a ninth-inning rally that netted two runs and defeated Detroit 7 to 6 on Tuesday. Detroit took an early lead, scoring four runs in the first inning on three singles, a triple and Dykes' error. The visitors won in the ninth with two singles and a pass off Oldham, a sacrifice fly and Cobb's error. Score: Philadelphia 030 001 012—7
Detroit 410 001 000—6
Batteries—Rommell, Keefe and Perkins; Middleton, Halling, Oldham and Almsmith.

Sox, 6; Senators, 5
CHICAGO—Dominick Mulrennan, a recruit pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, with timely hitting behind him, defeated Washington, 6 to 5. Everett Yargan, last year's home run hitter of the Western league, took Schalk's place behind the plate and drove out two doubles, scoring one run himself and driving in two others. Mulrennan pitched in fine form, having only two bad innings in which the visitors bunched hits. Score: Washington 030 002 000—5
Chicago 113 000 10—6
Batteries—Schacht, Acosta and Diehl; Mulrennan and Yargan.

IN THE SPORT MIRROR

Baseball fans and promoters of projects in the interest of the national pastime in the city at large are, without question, aware of the structure nearing completion in Copeland park—La Crosse's baseball park—on the north side. The above classification of the human race in the city, who have attended, and will continue to do so in the future, every attraction staged at the park, are in sympathy to a man with the construction of the bleachers which will be completed by next Sunday. It has been agitated in sporting circles for a number of years. Responding to the popular demand, the Nelson Clothing company baseball club, at the outset of the present season, undertook the responsibility of providing ample bleachers around the field that the baseball public might be given a better opportunity of witnessing the attractions. With construction material prices nearly at their highest pitch, one may easily realize the expenditure that is necessary to put over a project of this kind and it is with this topic that we wish to deal herein. At a joint conference of officials of the Nelson and La Crosse baseball clubs Tuesday, plans for a comprehensive drive for the purpose of defraying the remaining expense of building the bleachers were outlined. Solicitors of the remaining funds of building the bleachers will attempt to clear up the deficit in a single day. Every public spirited citizen in the city ought to feel that he is personally bound to share the responsibility of this project and will be asked to contribute upon learning the details in connection with the donation. The united effort of the two baseball organizations in the city is back of the project and with the idea in mind that La Crosse may be put on the map as possessing one of the best ball parks in western Wisconsin, citizens are respectfully requested to lend a hand in this proposition which will be a credit to the city as a whole.

These Better Tires Are Now Lower Priced

Two important factors underlie the remarkable values now offered in Goodyear Tires and Tubes. One is the many improvements made in them during the past few months; the other is the price reductions we have just put into effect.

A conspicuous example of the values now to be had in Goodyear Tires is our clincher type 30x3 1/2-inch Goodyear Cord Tire. This first quality product—one of the most durable and efficient tires we ever built—can be bought today from Goodyear Service Station Dealers for only

NICKEL IN SLOT. PETITION IS PUT OFF BY COMPANY

Telephone Company Abandons for Time Its Application for New Pay Stations

Before the ratification of the constitution of Wisconsin on the petition of the La Crosse Telephone company for permission to install nickel-in-the-slot pay stations in public places has been postponed indefinitely at the request of the utility.

Final notification of the adjournment of the hearing has been received from the commission as follows:

"Please be advised that the La Crosse Telephone company has requested the commission that the hearing in the above entitled proceeding, set for May 28 at La Crosse, be adjourned indefinitely. The commission, in complying with this request, does the nickel-in-the-slot matter, as is concerned without prejudice, to be taken up at any time in the future. The hearing set for above named date is therefore cancelled."

IN THE MORNING PAPERS A Summary of the News

CHICAGO.—Reduction of freight rates on certain commodities approximately 20 per cent between the Pacific coast and midwest terminals, was announced by all transcontinental railroads.

LONDON.—Attacks upon voting machines and clashes between nationalists and Sinn Feiners at Belfast kept troops busy at the parliamentary elections.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—A special committee sustained the action of officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in suspending 2,400 members who plant the unauthorized strike last summer.

NEW YORK.—District Attorney James announced there was insufficient evidence to connect Giuseppe DiPino with the Wall Street bomb explosion.

ELGA.—Independent advisers from Petrograd say strikes are spreading deep with revolts against the communist regime.

ST. PAUL.—All Great Northern railroad shops except two were shut down until July 5, throwing out 2,000 men.

NEW LAW ABOLISHES SPECIAL CHARTERS FOR BADGER CITIES

Forty-five Cities in Wisconsin
Affected by Legislation Effective
January 1, 1922.

MADISON, Wis.—The new city charter law, chapter 242, laws 1921, goes into effect January 1, 1922. On that date all special city charters except that of Milwaukee—15 in number—are abolished. After that date the uniform general charter will apply throughout the state except in Milwaukee which is the only city of the first class. This brings about a condition that has been desired for more than 50 years. Prior to 1892 the legislature issued special charters for cities each different from the other. In that year a constitutional amendment prohibited any more special charters and since then there has been a constant effort to get a uniform system of city law, finally realized in this session. Cities under the old charter law will find practically no change in the new statute.

Senator Conant, chairman of the judiciary committee, referred to this law as a great achievement on the part of the revisor.

PARIS.—France must borrow 32,000,000,000 francs to cover expenditures this year M. Cheron reported to the finance committee.

Forty per cent of the world's estimated supply of mineral oil has already been consumed.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handiest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

In every section, however remote, you find a dealer in fresh, live U. S. Tires.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

PARISIAN ROMANCE NEW MUSICAL SHOW OF "JUBILEE GIRLS"

Jewell-Golden Company Will Present Chic and Tameful
Play at Riviera

"A Parisian Romance," a musical comedy that relates the troubles of two fathers in the gay French capital, will be presented at the Riviera theater today and Thursday by the Jewell-Golden "Jubilee Girls." This will constitute the second change of program this week, each show being presented only two days. Miss Lillian Besseant, "queen of syncopation," is right in her element with the song numbers of this musical play. Her leading songs are "La, La, Wee, Wee," and "He's a Dan Good Man." The opening musical number is "La, Belle Parisian," but the entire company. Other numbers are "Baby's Arms," "Harry Powers and Girls," "NoBODY Knows," "Ella Cornell and Girls," "Bimbo Isle," "Conrad Hipp," "Hipp, Spencer and Hipp," the features picture for today only is "The Face at Your Window," a special produced by William Fox. Mr. Fox had the assistance of the United States government in the making of his film.

PASTEURIZATION OF SKIM MILK ORDERED IN ASSEMBLY BILL

MADISON, Wis.—Compulsory pasteurization of skim milk and whey distributed from creameries and cheese factories was ordered by the assembly when it engrossed the bill, granting the Dairy and Food commissioner $5,000 to enforce the provisions of an existing law.

Claim was made by the Dairy and Food commissioner, J. Q. Emery, and C. F. Norgren, of the department of agriculture, who addressed the assembly, that the stock markets were beginning to discriminate against hogs coming from dairy centers.

Unpasteurized skim milk and whey infected hundreds of them with tuberculosis, it was charged.

FAVERSHAM AT RIVOLI
CHARLES RAY COMING

After an absence of several years from the dramatic field William Faversham, the distinguished actor, returns to the attention of the American public as a star of the screen. His first Selznick picture, "The Man Who Lost Himself," is now being shown at the Riviera theater. Mr. Faversham appears in this picture as a "bustled" American who becomes an English Earl overnight through the fault of his own, and has an alternately thrilling and laughable time living up to it. On the same bill are two acts of vaudeville and a Larry Semon comedy.

Opening Thursday at the Rivoli will be Charles Ray in a comedy of youth, "Nineteen and Phyllis." That the services of a mail order house can be successfully invoked as first aid to a fading romance is demonstrated in "Nineteen and Phyllis." Ray finds need for such services when he sees his deadliest rival appear at a dance.

In the only dress suit ever seen on a young man in the community. And they bring unexpected results.

LOTS OF LOVE-MAKING

IN MAJESTIC DRAMA

There are about fifty-seven varieties of love-making. Lew Cody proves in his latest vehicle, "The Butterfly Man," the screen adaptation of George Barr McCutcheon's satirical novel of American ultra-fashionable life. The picture, one of the most beautiful ever filmed is at the Majestic Theater.

As Sedgewick Mlynar, noted by the leisure-loving women of his "set," and envied and fawned by the men, Cody gives a capital performance. His acting of a part which cannot by any stretch of the imagination be regarded as heroic is done so gracefully that he not only wins the women on the screen but the women, as well as the men, of his audience. The picture points the moral of the novel—that it doesn't pay to be a "lounge lizard," whether it be in a Gay White Way cabaret or in those exclusive circles described as the "Four Hundred."

Cody is supported by a notable cast, including three leading women—Louise Lovely, Lila Leslie and Rosemary Theby. There is no reason why these lovely women should not arouse the susceptibilities of a young man, on or off the screen, especially when they appear in the enchanting Parisian creations which their parts demand. A bathing scene on the lawn of a multi-millionaire's estate, showing the leads and many other shapely girls in the scanty attire of bathing costumes while rather breath-taking is pleasing and artistic.

"PAGAN LOVE"—CASINO

Artists and critics have pronounced the picturization of "The Legend of the Bell," which occurs in "Pagan Love," showing today at the Casino, to be one of the most artistically lovely incidents ever depicted on the screen. Using Yu-Ching, a young Chinese editor (played by Togo Yumamoto), tells Kharleen, the little blind harpist (Maude Ballin), many stories of the Flower Kingdom, and the one she likes best to hear is the legend of the Chinese Bell.

The director, Hugo Ballin, has realized to the full the possibilities of the little story, and given to it all the beauty of treatment that it deserves. Costumes, scenery, lighting, photography—above all, the atmosphere, redolent of Old China—all have been carefully and intelligently treated.

WHOLE TOWN USED IN MAKING "FACE AT YOUR WINDOW." FEATURE FILM

Sowing evil words today in the hope of reaping a harvest of evil deeds tomorrow, the carriers of pernicious foreign doctrines are busy in America. What will happen if this seed is allowed to take root here is shown in "The Face at Your Window," a new William Fox special film production, written by Max Marcin, the well known playwright. This photoplay will open its La Crosse engagement today at the Riviera. William Fox had the support of the United States government in making this picture. He saw that the great motion picture organization which he headed could render a unique service to America and the world by producing a picture that would convey a great idea in advance of current thought. To succeed, such a picture must contain more than a lesson; it must have a masterful story.

"PASSION FRUIT"—STRAND

Doraldina, Metro's dancing star, has made her appearance in a hand-beaded garment consisting of just the kind and quantity of beads that usually go to make up the ornamental bag so popular nowadays. Of course one might not call it a "gown." Its brevity might preclude that. But nobody who sees it in Doraldina's first Metro production, "Passion Fruit," will dispute the fact that it is pleasing to the eye. No woman will fail to notice it; no man will fail to look again. The famous dancer, known the world over for her interpretation of the hula hula dance, has discarded her grass skirts

EQUAL RIGHTS PROVE WOMEN MIGHT PROVE DANGEROUS IS CLAIM

Committee Considering Bill to Remove all Discriminations Against New Voters

MADISON, Wis.—Equal rights for women and the removal of all legal discriminations against the newly enfranchised sex might prove a dangerous privilege, it was brought out before the senate judiciary committee Tuesday in its hearing on a measure introduced at the request of women's organizations.

Under the present wording of the bill a married woman would have the same right to choose her place of residence as the husband, argued Senator Huber.

"That would throw our divorce laws into confusion," Senator Severson suggested. "A woman might leave her husband and he could not sue for divorce on account of abandonment."

Representatives of women's organizations expressed themselves as willing to amend the bill so as to make it apply largely to voting, propositions. Jury service is also included in the bill. This feature has already been voted down by the assembly. The complete bill follows:

"Women shall have the same rights and privileges under the law as men in the exercise of suffrage, freedom of contract, choice of residence, jury service, holding office, holding and conveying property, care and custody of children, and in all other respects."

"The various courts, executive and administrative officers shall construe the statutes where the masculine gender is used to include the feminine gender unless such construction will deny to females the special protection and privileges which they now enjoy for the general welfare."

"The courts, executive and administrative officers shall make all necessary rules and provisions to carry out the intent and purposes of this statute."
